

International Conference
PAKISTAN’S PLURALISTIC CULTURAL VALUES of PEACE, TOLERANCE and LOVE
[ISLAMABAD – 5th & 6th JULY, 2018]

CONCEPT PAPER

The Society of Asian Civilizations Pakistan was established on 23rd March, 2000 – the Republic Day of Pakistan by Professor Emeritus Dr. Ahmad Hasan Dani, a scholar of international fame in the fields of culture, civilization, archaeology and history. It is a non-political Society. The aims and objectives of the Society are to organize national and international conferences, seminars, symposia, talks and lecture series to advance its sole goal of promoting academic, cultural and research-oriented activities in the country and abroad.

In pursuance of the stated goal of the Society, it intend to organize an International Conference on the topic of “Pakistan’s Pluralistic Cultural Values of Peace, Tolerance and Love, ”

If we cast a cursory look on the prevailing scenario in the world, we shall find two kinds of Societies over the globe. On the one hand, there are Societies with monolithic and fascist tendencies which are, in fact, closed Societies, establishing supremacy and hegemony over others. Contrary to that, the other kind of Society are pluralist ones which are open and generally tolerant ones, believing in power-sharing and prone to new ideas. These Societies welcome socio-political and economic changes over the globe.

In the South Asian subcontinent, during the freedom movement, All India Muslim League and its leadership, particularly Quaid-i-Azam Mohammad Ali Jinnah advocated the cause of establishing a pluralist polity in India with constitutional protection to the minorities. He was the champion of Hindu-Muslim unity. Mohammad Ali Jinnah, a brilliant barrister with impeccable anti-colonial credentials, successfully promoted a compromise package for the future constitution of independent sovereign state of united India in the form of Lucknow Pact.

Unfortunately, in 1928, the Indian National Congress went back on its commitment and adopted the Nehru Report, recommending of a highly centralized polity with the absolute domination of Hindu community. Disappointed by the narrow-mindedness, parochial approach and vested interest of Hindutva, Quaid-i-Azam was compelled to expose and challenge the clandestine designs of Indian National Congress to impose supremacy of Hindu majority in the post-independent British India. When Indian National Congress refused to establish a pluralist Society in united India as envisioned Quaid-i-Azam and endeavored to deny just treatment to Muslim minority, Quaid-i-Azam demanded a separate homeland for the Muslims of India where they can practice their religion independently and model their lives according to their choice and willingness.

After the emergence of Pakistan on 14th August, 1947, the Founder of Pakistan promised a pluralist Society in the newly independent state of Pakistan. His address to the Constituent Assembly of Pakistan on 11 August, 1947 adequately vindicates his vision to establish a pluralist Pakistan where all citizens in the state are to have equal rights and obligations without any discrimination on the basis of religion, cast, creed or color. He said:

“You may belong to any religion, caste or creed – that has nothing to do with the business of the State. We are starting with the fundamental principle that we are all citizens, and equal citizens of one State”.*

Keeping in view Quaid’s dream of pluralist Pakistan, the Society of Asian Civilizations Pakistan intends to organize this international conference and invites scholars from all over Pakistan and abroad to share their views on the topic.

For convenience of the scholars, main theme of the conference has been divided into sub-themes in the following 04 academic sessions:

Academic Session-I: SPIRIT of ISLAM: PEACE, UNIVERSALITY and Co-EXISTENCE

Academic Session-II: MUSLIM RULE in SOUTH ASIA: DEVELOPMENT of
