

Personal: Hamid reza shariatmadari (Tehran 1967), married, three children.
Education: Studied in Shi'ite theology & jurisprudence, and Islamic Philosophy in seminary, qum /Iran;
Ph.D. in Islamic philosophy in Tehran university/Iran (2005);

Activities(Experiences): contribution in foundation of urd(university of religions and denominations/qum/Iran), and acting as vice president(two years), editor in chief in haft asman (seven heavens) quarterly (nine years), founder and Dean of the Shiite faculty(four years), founder and Dean of philosophy faculty(current); associated professor in urd;

Teachings: theology of Shi'ite, Shi'ism and rationality(for PhD candidates); Islamic theology; history of Islamic philosophy; Shi'ite sources of deduction; philosophy of religion(for Ma. students);

Courses on Origins and denominations of Shi'ism (in English, every six months,from 2015, current), and more than 100 unites and courses in different subjects and universities in Tehran, Qum, and Mashhad(Iran).

Areas of research: applications of reason in Shi'ite theology and jurisprudence, esoteric interpretation in Shi'ite denominations, theological methodology among Islamic theological denominations, approximation between Muslim communities and the dialogue between Islam and Christianity.

Recent publication(in Persian):

Secularism in the Arab World;

Rational and humanistic thinking in fourth Islamic century(11th A.d); principles of Imama (Imamate)(editor in chief);

Lectures:

1. Research Opportunity(Harvard university, Boston, 2006);
2. Isma'ili Ta'wil (internal exegesis): Abu Hatam Al-Razi(in Arabic, Tunisia,2015);
3. Humanistic and Rational thoughts in the 4th century AH (in English, Frankfurt, Germany, 2015);
4. Religion and Reason: an Islamic Approach (in English, Nairobi, Kenya, 2016);
5. The Theory of Ethical Justice According to Muslim Thinkers: The generation of Miskawayh & Tawhidi (in Arabic, Mashhad, Iran, 2017);
6. Moderation and Rational Approach in the Shi'ite Thinking in the 4th Century: The case of Sharif Mortaza (in Arabic, Qum, Iran, 2017);
7. The open philosophical dialogues between Persians and Arabs: the case of scientific circles in the fourth century (in Arabic, Baghdad 2018);
8. Explanation of the theological differences between Islamic denominations (and how these differences don't/can't lead to the excommunication),(in English, Paderborn, Germany, 2019)